COLUMNIIST DEFENDS FLORIDA

Westbrook Pegler has made Damon Runyon mad. It isn't news that Pegler has made anybody mad. He has made everybody mad at one time or another. But it is news that easy-going, jovial Runyon is mad. He is sore at Pegler because Pegler has cast a reflection on Florida.

Runyon, a New York City yokel who made a mess of money writing about Broadway toughs and their molls and then set himself up in a swanky villa on Miami Beach, is a proud booster of Florida, and it pains him for anybody, even Pegler, to cast aspersions on Florida.

Pegler wrote that back during the Florida boom, a Tampa real estate dealer stretched across the sidewalk in front of his office the skin of an eight-foot rattlesnake killed by workmen while they were clearing palmettos from a subdivision.

Pegler says that other Tampa realtors promptly read the riot act to the dealer who spread such a frightful exhibit before the eyes of timid northerners who were prospective buyers of land. Correcting Pegler, Runyon says the Tampa dealer just didn't want visitors to think that the puny eight-foot rattler was the biggest Florida could produce.

Runyon says that he and his fellow Dade countians throw back all rattlesnakes that are less than 12 feet long. They have to be at least 12 feet for the manufacture of batbands for actors and columnists, Runyon explains.

It's good to have patriotic Florida residents like Runyon pebble their feet. Pegler in their places. Fshaw! An eight-foot rattler is hardly big enough to be weaned. —Lakeland Ledger.

RICE SQUEEZE

Rice mills close down right and left. Processors claim they now go in the red about a dollar on every barrelful they mill. It's the same old story—no ceiling on the farm product and an inflexible maximum price for the finished material. Most packers, then flour millers, struggled with indented squeezes. The government's response in both previous cases included subsidies. But now the subsidy policy is under hot fire in congress.

The rice trade talks of possible consumer shortages of "cleaned" grain, the finished and polished variety which U. S. consumer taste demands. The demand for a record crop of 70 million bushels, up 8 per cent from last year and 48 per cent above the 1932-31 10-year average.

A MODEL CITY

Those who haven't kept right up to the minute on Florida growth and development are certain to be already years behind the expansion that is taking place in Florida's sugarcane city of Clewiston. This city, planned with foresight, has more than doubled in population has reached an estimated 4,500 persons. That in itself is remarkable.

Clewiston is really an attractive little city, with palms, carefully kept parks, new and modern homes and business buildings. It has an active new population, and one leading citizen with whom we talked during a visit there Tuesday said he predicts conservatively that the population will be 10,000 in another 10 years. This would make Clewiston one of the fastest growing municipalities in Florida. It has become the center of a vast farming area, and great new developments are in the making, inspired by the sugar company.

It is a revelation to see this city. It is a model for Florida, and furnishes a fair idea of what may be done in this state when adequate capital and unlimited vision are combined.—Punta Gorda Herald.

HAPPY ENDING

"No more will I hear his footsteps on yonder walk just as the clock strikes the hour of eight."

"Gracious, Jeannette!"

"And the parlor light will never burn low for him again."

"You don't mean it?"

"I do, and, furthermore, he will never sit on the sofa three nights a week and call me pet names as he has long been doing for two years."

"I am astonished."

"And tonight I am going to burn all the old love-letters in my trunk."

"But why are you going to discard him?"

"Discard him? Why, you goose, I am going to marry him!"—Clewiston News.

SIMPLER TAXES

One thing that this nation, obviously needs is simpler taxes. Millions of Americans have been more annoyed by the confusion of the federal tax system than by the taxes themselves.

A good example is the so-called "victory tax." This particular impost is not oppressive, and budget, but it is troublesome to remember and pay on time. Yet the senate finance committee has voted to continue it, instead of agreeing with the house and the treasury department and combining it with the regular individual income tax.

This is a case where the senate finance committee would do a good deed and make some friends for itself by changing its mind.—Sanford Herald.

YELLOW GRITS

When you talk about grits, you talk about a food that interests millions of persons in the South.

Mrs. Vera Walker, nutritionist for the state board of health, talked about grits the other day. She said that in yellow grits there are 200 units of vitamin "A" per ounce, while in white grits there is practically no vitamin "A."

That news ought to be comforting to a lot of persons in the South just now who are having to eat yellow grits because there is a shortage of white grits. Many southerners who have never before eaten yellow grits are inclined to turn up their noses at it, but lots of other southerners wouldn't be caught eating anything as sissy as white grits.

Long before vitamin became a common word, many country folk were saying that yellow grits would stick to your ribs a lot better than sissy white grits.—Lakeland Ledger.

Manpower commission, wrote Senator Pepper that he had certified to the war department the need for the establishment of seven such camps in Florida, and listed Clewiston as one of the seven locations certified.

The camps have been requested in order to supply much needed labor in pulp wood cutting and in gathering of naval stores.

The War Manpower Commission's regional office in Atlanta asked for 200 laborers at Clewiston to aid in cane harvesting. McNutt is reported to have said.—The Clewiston News.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 13. —(FNS)—Colman Rogers, Secretary of the Florida Ice Manufacturers Association, points out that due to the heavy increase in the killing of pork for home use, the local meat curing plants in Florida and Georgia are filling up much earlier than usual.

"This increase makes it very necessary that farmers are their regular meat curing plant has room to handle their meat before killing. Some cases have already occurred where meat has been killed and taken to plants which were too full to handle more meat and this has caused serious loss and inconvenience to the farmer."

"Few curing plants have sufficient help to extend their services though they might be quite ready to do so. Farmers who can would help their neighbors very much by removing such of their meat as they safely can from commercial curing plants in order to make room for curing their neighbor's meat," stated Rogers.

TOO LATE

TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

With the primaries a little more than three months away, the germ of political ambition is beginning to stir in the hearts of gubernatorial aspirants and indications are that it may reach the stage of an epidemic.

The race, which began with the announcement of Lee Green to be followed by Caldwell, Graham and Upchurch, will in all probability see an entry list of ten or twelve before the final date for qualification rolls around.

From the State's most authoritative listening posts come information that State Superintendent of Public Instruction Colin English can be expected to make his formal announcement soon. Another candidate termed "certain" to enter the race is State Senator J. Ed Baker of Unalaska. The labor press announced Raymond Shilton of Tampa several weeks ago and the senator admits it is his plan to run.

Representative Joe Jenkins of Gainesville has been sounding out sentiment during the past two weeks and can definitely be numbered among those "seriously considering."

In the meantime in hotel rooms, over conference tables and even on street corners your attentive ear can catch the names of a number of other alleged "dark horses" who should not be discounted—including Judge Raleigh Petteway of Miami, Rex Parrior of Tampa, Supreme Court Justices Alko E. Adams and H. L. (Tom) Sebring, Dear Walter J. Matherly of the University of Florida and Carl Brocken of Tampa.

As the matter now stands it appears that Lee Green is still the man to beat. With a strong statewide organization built up carefully over a long period of time, an enviable reputation as a campaigner and a name familiar to more people than any other candidate.

With the entry of Millard Caldwell and Ernest Graham in the race it appeared that Green would not escape this time by being elected in the first primary and the prospect of Shilton cutting him down in his own field made it seem that Green would be a lame duck before he could even begin to make his move.

Both Graham and Caldwell have made progress since they entered the race. Graham has succeeded in lining up some splendid support and considering the short time he has been active his perfected a state organization second to none.

Green's discounting the publicity gained thru the initial announcements, which was about equal for all candidates. Graham has probably received the most general press comment with Caldwell second, Green and Upchurch trailing.

Should Colin English announce, it would prove harmful to Graham, Caldwell and Upchurch than to Green, for he would take votes from their rather than from the Congressmen.

The same holds true in the case of J. Ed Baker, who probably would do these same candidates plenty of harm, especially in Lake and Palm Beach counties. Should Petteway of Miami and Parrior of Hillsborough lose their seats to the ring, it would only serve to further complicate the picture.

Want Prisoners To Work In Sugar Cane

Possibility that an auxiliary prisoner-of-war camp might be established in Clewiston in order that the prisoners might be used for labor to aid in sugar-cane harvesting, was seen in a report from Washington this week.

News reports stated that Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War

Manpower commission, wrote Senator Pepper that he had certified to the war department the need for the establishment of seven such camps in Florida, and listed Clewiston as one of the seven locations certified.

The camps have been requested in order to supply much needed labor in pulp wood cutting and in gathering of naval stores.

Tea Is Given For Mrs. Frank Johnson

Beautiful in every detail was the lovely Tea given Friday afternoon, January 7th, at the residence of Mrs. Anderson Chastain with Mrs. Oscar Chastain as co-hostess, honoring Mrs. Frank N. Johnson who leaves this week to make her home in Hawthorne, Florida.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Anderson Chastain, who chose for the occasion an afternoon dress of pale aqua crepe with matching accessories. In the receiving line were Mrs. Oscar Chastain, attractively gowned in black crepe with becoming net bodice, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Frank Johnson, wearing an afternoon dress of forest green crepe accented with soft front drapery.

Low bowls of sweetheart roses and pastel sweet peas were placed at vantage points around the living room where the guests assembled. The mantel held an artistic arrangement of shell pink gladioli flanked with burning tapers in a harmonizing shade. Center of attraction in the dining room was the well appointed tea table, elaborately decorated with a center piece of crystal cornucopias holding an unusual arrangement of pale pink hibiscus blossoms, extending the length of the table and balanced with the silver tea service, presided over by Mrs. Stanton Chastain wearing a black crepe accented with black sequins and Mrs. Francis Cross in Navy and white sheer.

The buffet lent itself beautifully to the decorations with a lavish arrangement of gerbers in shades of pink, accenting the color scheme chosen by the hostess.

Mrs. J. L. Hall, attractive in an afternoon dress of Navy sheer with Mrs. Rodolph Faulk, wearing an attractive print, assisted with hostess duties.

Around sixty guests attended this delightful affair.

Mrs. Lois Jacobs and daughter, Bobbie, spent the weekend in Miami where Bobbie received medical treatment.

CINEMATIC CHATTER.....

—By MALCOLM MILLAR—
What The Movies Have To Offer During The Coming Week

I got advanced peek at your coming attraction Sunday-Monday and found it wholly enjoyable from many angles:

I am speaking of "White Savage", which is slated for the Owl Show, Saturday, and the Sunday-Monday screening at the Prince Theatre, and which, stars lovely Maria Montez, (and she is more than an eye-filler), Jon Hall and Sabu, the Hindu boy who has made such a hit in our United States.

The picture is one of the most beautiful things in technicolor that I have seen in some time, with scenic effects that are breathtaking and costuming that is painstakingly artistic.

The romance in the picture is furnished by Jon Hall, who is cast as a poor shark fisherman and Miss Montez, who is the Princess of the Island. Comedy situations are ably handled by Sabu, who is cast as a "little feller" who almost ruins the whole thing at the start of the story, but comes back beautifully in the end, straightening everything out to the satisfaction of the principal characters and the audience.

A very popular young man and his henchmen are coming to town for the Tuesday-Wednesday run. None other than Jimmy Lydon, as Henry Aldrich, Charles Smith, his pal Dizzy, John Little, his papa, Olive Haskley, his mama and Mimi Chandler, his sweetiepie, and they bring another delightful chapter in the lives of the popular Aldrich family under the title, "Henry Aldrich Swings In."

Thursday-Friday the little kid who has made such a hit with all types of audiences, Joan Carroll, with Ruth Warwick, Walter Reed and a cast of other well known players, bring us "Petticoat Laundry." This piece has a very interesting plot concerning a young lady, Joan Carroll, who decides to run away from home and join a party of gangsters. After joining the mob she sets about reforming them and this period of reformation affords some of the funniest comedy written into a show. The flash, where she is kidnapped by another gang and rescued is a knock out and the whole show will leave you feeling good inside and out.

Saturday ushers in Charles Starrett with his new leading lady, Alma Carroll and his Western buddies in "Pardon My Gun," which promises to be an action-styled cow boy that will prove just what the members of the Six Shooters Club ordered.

Well, folks, there you have it. We hear a lot of talk about "damage to the crops"—and some folks squeaking hard times. "Over there," where the boys are fighting for Freedom, rain, snow, storm, hell and high water won't stop them from pushing on. Over here, where we are living in comparative peace, we can't let business set-backs or anything else stop us from our declared intention of putting up the fight of our life, to back up our boys at the front.

We've got to invest every moment of our idle time to some useful wartime occupation, we've got to save precious facts, paper and other needed things—but above all, we've got to invest every dollar we can spare in our United States Government War Bonds—WE'VE GOT TO BACK THE ATTACK NOW!

The 4th "Back The Attack" War Bond Drive runs from January 18th to February 15th. Do Your Share—BUY WAR BONDS. Buy them at the theatre and receive complimentary tickets and help us with the State contest.

That's it folks—see you at the movies—Mal.

Your Electric Bill

Living costs are up . . . except for electric service. The average family pays twice as much electric service as it got for the same money in World War I. Individual bills may be higher but that is because far more service is used. Actually, Florida Power & Light Company customers receive 114% more electric service than they did in 1926 for the same money. The average cost per KWH is down over 50%. Today it costs more to feed, house, and clothe the family, taxes are higher but electric service has never been cheaper.

Just because it is cheap, don't waste electric service. Use what is needed and no more. Then you help conserve fuel, manpower, transportation and critical materials of war. That's the least we can do for those whose duty on the battlefront calls on them to do the most.
